Art Unit: 3634

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 10-13 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being clearly anticipated by Szerdahelyi et al. Szerdahelyi et al. disclose an interior sheet metal (1b), exterior sheeting, a hollow interior space (1a), an opening (10), a carrier module (figure 1b), and access openings (3a and 3b) "sized large enough to allow entry of the carrier module".

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 14-22 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Szerdahelyi et al. in view of Carlo et al. All of the elements of the instant invention are discussed in detail above except providing two guide rails for a cable assembly and a brace. Carlo et al. disclose two guide rails (7) in a cable assembly and a brace. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the module of Szerdahelyi et al. with two guide rails in a cable assembly and a brace as taught by Carlo et al. since multiple link drives and cable drives are art equivalent and both perform equally as well to drive a window closure. It would have been further obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the module of Szerdahelyi et al. with a brace as taught by Carlo et al. since a brace provides rigidity to the module.

The applicants arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive. It appears that the applicants arguments are more limiting than the claims. The applicant states in the arguments that the openings are sized to allow the entire carrier module which the applicant fails to claim but argues. Furthermore, the applicant argues limitations such as "dry side" and "wet side" which again the applicant fails to claim but feels necessary to argue.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Jerry Redman at telephone number 703-308-2120.
